New meeting focuses on research with practical treatment potential

The Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation made history in 2009 when we hosted the first Pediatric Neuro-Oncology Basic and Translational Research Conference.

"We organized this new research meeting in association with the Society of Neuro-Oncology in an effort to provide a collaborative forum for basic and translational pediatric brain tumor researchers," said Dianne Traynor, President of the PBTF.

"We know that basic and translational research is necessary to discovering new targeted therapies for children."

The group met in October in Asheville, N.C. and, brought together 85 of the world's leading scientists in the field of childhood brain tumor research.

"The topics covered reflected on the recent advances in the understanding of the genetic basis for cancer and the efforts being made to translate what has been learned in basic research to the clinical environment," said Dr. Phil Frost, the PBTF's senior scientific advisor.

"This meeting demonstrated that, with PBTF encouragement, scientists are keenly aware of the need for new treatments and are committed to applying their efforts to moving from the bench to the clinic."

Participants also gave the meeting high marks. Said Dr. Joshua Rubin, co-director of pediatric neuro-oncology at St. Louis Children's Hospital, "The conference was a great success. The small group format encouraged the sharing of new data and open discussion. This kind of meeting is so important for fostering collaboration and advancing brain tumor research in a more communal fashion."

The next Pediatric Neuro-Oncology Basic and Translational Research Conference will take place in 2011.

More information about the PBTF's 2009 research funding, including our Institute Program, is on the following pages.

About Us

The Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation of the United States, Inc., (PBTF) is a 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization that seeks to find the cause and cure of childhood brain tumors. We fund medical research, increase public awareness of the disease, promote early detection and treatment, and offer family support programs.

Federal employees may make donations to the PBTF using CFC #10190. Charity Navigator, the leading guide to charitable giving, has awarded the PBTF its highest possible rating of four stars.

PBTF Institutes' third annual meeting promotes collaboration

Scientists from the Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation's Research Institutes held their third annual research review meeting in Asheville, N.C., in October 2009.

The meeting gave researchers supported by the PBTF at Duke University, the University of California San Francisco and the Hospital for Sick Children the opportunity to share their latest research and the opportunity to further their collaborations.

PBTF Institute researchers are working to

- understand the signaling systems of pediatric brain tumors involved in mitogenesis, survival and cell death in an effort to identify new targets for childhood brain tumor therapy;
- characterize the phenotypic and genetic alterations that are unique to benign and malignant pediatric brain tumors;
- identify the genes and genetic variations that underlie tumor resistance to chemotherapy and radiation therapy;
- develop immunotherapeutic approaches aimed at improving control of localized and disseminated pediatric brain tumor disease;
- find new, safer approaches to control CNS disseminated disease; and
- create innovative biological-based treatments for childhood brain tumors.

A complete list of PBTF-funded projects is on the following page.

Peter A. Steck Memorial Award and Lecture

The PBTF established this award and lecture at the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in 1991 in memory of Peter A. Steck, Ph.D., who discovered the PTEN gene with our funding assistance.

The award recognizes research excellence and encourages young investigators to enter the field of brain tumor research. Senior researchers deliver the guest lecture each year.

Young Investigator Award: Donald W. (Will) Parsons, M.D., Ph.D., won for his paper "An Integrated Genomic Analysis of Human Glioblastoma Multiforme." Parsons is an assistant professor of hematology and oncology at the Baylor College of Medicine.

Guest lecturer: Luis F. Parada, Ph.D., chairman of the department of developmental biology at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, discussed "PTEN Function: From Tumors to Brain Function."

College Scholarship Program

The PBTF awarded a record $264,000 in college scholarships for the 2009-10 academic year to 236 students affected by brain tumors as children or adolescents.

The program is funded in part by the Cycle World Joseph C. Parkhurst Education Fund Silent Auction, held in conjunction with the annual Dealernews International Powersports Dealer Expo.

The formation of the Tim and Tom Gullikson Family Support Fund at the PBTF, honoring the late tennis champion and coach Tim Gullikson, allowed us to expand the scholarship program in 2009.

We have awarded 633 scholarships since 2002. Recipients have attended vocational schools, community colleges and universities across the United States.

Ride for Kids® continues to boost PBTF funding

Motorcyclists and researchers may seem like an unusual pairing to some, but the Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation's Ride for Kids® program has a beautiful partnership with the scientific community.

"We have not gone from cause to cure yet, but all the donations [motorcyclists] bring in are getting us closer," Dr. Michael Ettl of Phoenix Children's Hospital told riders in Phoenix last fall.

Those donations totaled $4.4 million in 2009 with Ride for Kids® events in 39 cities. This year we'll expand to 40 markets with a new ride in Tulsa, Okla.

In addition to raising funds for research and family support, Ride for Kids® also raises awareness about childhood brain tumors. As the nation's premier charity motorcycle ride, it receives major backing from the American Honda Motor Company, Cycle World magazine, the Cycle World International Motorcycle Shows, AGV Helmets, Dunlop Tires, and Tourmaster Luggage. These partnerships foster goodwill with the motorcycling community and increase our visibility worldwide.

Whether you're a rider, a patient family, a researcher or someone who just wants to help out, we invite you to join us at a Ride for Kids® event in 2010. Go to rideforkids.org or call 800-253-6530 to learn more.

2009 Honor & Memorial Gifts

Each year, thousands of generous donors make financial contributions to the Pediatric Brain Tumor Foundation in honor or memory of a loved one. We appreciate these gifts for the hope they bring to families struggling with the diagnosis of a brain tumor or the loss of a child.

Donations make it possible for us to fund research into potential cures and more effective treatments. They also enable us to provide educational resources such as informative brochures and college scholarships.

We thank all of our donors for their generosity. This list represents all gifts made between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 2009. If you have a correction, please contact Sean Riley at 800-253-6530 or sriley@pbtfus.org.

Make your gift last longer than a lifetime

The Greatest Return Society honors donors whose planned or ultimate gifts provide for the future of research to find the cause of and cure for pediatric brain tumors.

Your legacy gift will:

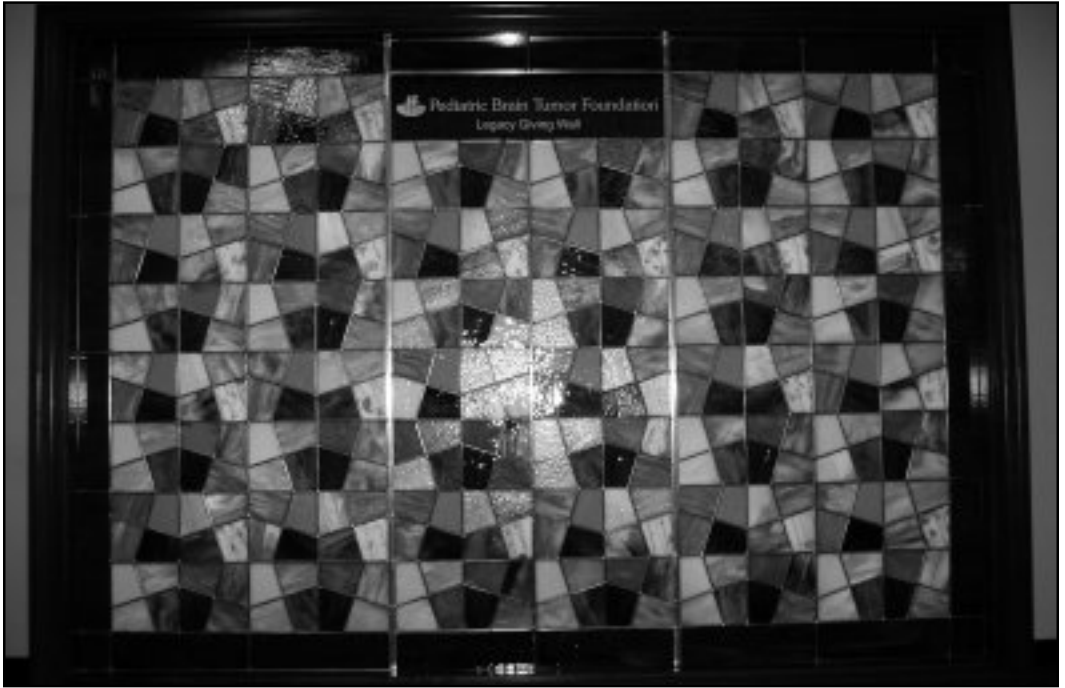

- speed the cure of childhood brain tumors by funding critical research and programs
- ensure that a part of your life's work will continue in perpetuity to improve children's lives
- provide generous tax incentives on most gift types
- guarantee donor income on certain gift types

To honor these donations, we place member names on a stained glass Legacy Giving Wall at PBTf headquarters. Each member also receives a commemorative award, a certificate of appreciation from PBTf President Dianne Traynor, and recognition in our national newsletter.

Donations of stock, real estate, life insurance and other assets in any amount are also gratefully accepted. By naming the PBTf as a beneficiary in your will, life insurance policy or retirement plan, you are ensuring that children suffering from the most devastating of all cancers will have a fighting chance to live a normal and healthy life.

For more information, call 800-253-6530 and ask for Sean Riley. You may also visit pbtfus.org to learn more about this lasting way to help the children.
